Digital: STEF launches its Spanish and Portuguese websites

STEF continues the roll-out of its website platform with the launch of www.stef.es and www.stef.pt dedicated respectively to the Spanish and Portuguese markets. They are part of the STEF Group's strategy to harmonise its international digital communication around its Connecting Food Market Players signature, which reflects its positioning at the centre of the agri-food chain.

The platform was launched in 2018 and already hosts the www.stef.com corporate website as well as those dedicated to the Italian (www.stef.it) and Swiss (www.stef-schweiz.ch) markets. It will be finalised over the coming months by the Belgian, Dutch and French websites. By the end of 2019, the STEF Group will have an online presence in the seven European countries in which it operates.

While the corporate site is designed to be more institutional, each country's site is designed to deal with domestic issues, with priority given to commercial development and recruitment.

"The launch of the Spanish and Portuguese websites marks a major step forward in the digitalisation of our communication, and now allows us to deliver a personalised message that meets the challenges of existing and prospective customers while enhancing our image among contenders." said Angel Lecanda, Managing Director, STEF Iberia.
